What's Happening:

It sounds like everyone enjoyed their family time during the holidays. The children loved sharing what they did during their time off. We are jumping right back into our daily routine. We will be adding many new things. One addition to our routine will be movement and exercise and we will explore different moves such as yoga and stretching.

The children are showing interest in measuring and cooking. It will be fun to see where those interests take us. The first on their list is making their own pies.

Our homework boxes have begun coming home. The work will have instructions and materials. They will be rotating. Please return as they finish within a week.

Special Note:

Thank you for the wonderful snacks. Fruits and vegetables would be welcomed. As well as cheese and crackers. Other great ideas are mini bagels with cream cheese, mini muffins and applesauce. The children are practicing family style serving. They are pouring juice/water from small containers and serving their own snack with a variety of methods such as tongs, measuring cups and spoons. This is to enhance their fine motor skills. There is no need for single serve snacks or juice unless it is a savings.
