

The Johnson Junction

December 16, 2019

What's Happening:

This past week has been filled with fun activities! On Tuesday, students from Holy Rosary visited our classroom and worked as mentors with our children to make stocking keepsakes! We then had a snowball fight with the big kids in our gym. It was really fun! On Wednesday, we had a wonderful time listening to Handsome Harry read the Polar Express to us and decorating/eating cookies!

We have been focusing our small group time on categorizing items and learning about opposites, while also incorporating counting, patterning, and measurement into these lessons.

We are happy to report that all of the children are able to write their first names. A good handful of children are writing their last name as well. We ask that you please encourage your child to practice writing their first and last name while home during the holiday break. Working on simple patterns is also encouraged. You can use markers, buttons, fruit snacks, etc. Anything you can find around your home that will repeat will work.

We wish you all a safe and Happy Holiday and look forward to seeing you in 2020!

Special Days:
