What's Happening:

As we explore and learn about all the areas in our classroom, the children have been planning their own desired activities. When work time is complete, they share with the other children what they did. It is amazing watching them as speakers and listeners. We are currently making a "Work Time" story book and can't wait to share it with you.

During literacy small group time the children will be working on correct letter formation. They will be using different ways to practice the verbal path of each upper case letter. We will be speaking more about this and fine motor skills during our conferences.

Next month we will be learning about being thankful. Our goal is to teach the children the act of sharing with others and being thankful for what we have.

Special Days:

10/28-10/31 – INTERSESSION
